Farese, Farese & Farese brings respect and values to the practice of law.

"MY FATHER'S PHILOSOPHY WAS, 'WHOEVER WALKS THROUGH the door, you try to help,'" says Steven E. Farese Sr., president of Farese, Farese & Farese. Steven's father, John B. "Big John" Farese, stayed true to that philosophy during his entire career, and passed it on to his children and grandchildren as they joined the family firm.

A LEGACY OF EXCELLENCE "Treat everyone no differently than you do your own family. That's what my father always said," says John Booth Farese. With this approach, the small-town firm has seen big-town results. This year, Farese, Farese & Farese has five members listed in Mid-South Super Lawyers® & Rising Stars.

Steven E. Farese Sr., licensed in Mississippi and Tennessee, has handled numerous high-profile criminal cases. He represented Mary Winkler against murder charges in the death of her husband, minister Matthew Winkler, a case that gained national attention.

During his career, John Booth Farese has secured $1 million verdicts and settlements in more than 15 cases, including a $20.6 million jury verdict for a man who suffered severe brain injury as the result of a motor vehicle accident.

Anthony L. Farese concentrates on criminal defense in both state and federal courts. He is a life member of the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers (NACDL). He is licensed in Mississippi and Tennessee. He handles murder cases, drug cases and white collar criminal defense matters.

Steven E. Farese Jr., a member of the NACDL, licensed in Mississippi and Tennessee, is on the board of directors of North Mississippi Rural Legal Services.

John S. Farese excels in the field of domestic relations throughout north Mississippi.

CONTINUING THE TRADITION "Our father taught us compassion at an early age," says Steven Farese Sr., "and the only thing we were ever afraid of was failure." Compassion, fearlessness and dedication to community service are still hallmarks of the firm as the Farese tradition continues. The firm also includes Robert Q. Whitwell, who joined in 1993 after leaving his post as the U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Mississippi.
